Chris Walsh is Moving

Photos by Ron Widman

The layout photos in this issue were exposed at member Chris Walsh's finely detailed, PRR HO Scale layout in Columbus. During January Chris held an 'open house' before he begins the large task of tearing down and rebuilding his next 'PRR Empire' at his new home in the Columbus area.

Lines West members Chris Walsh, foreground right and Bob Flores left, study the Richmond Engine facility. The couple in the background is Sue and Linn Van Woerkon.

Pennsylvania X38 Automobile Box Car is finely detailed.

PRR N5C caboose with the period train phone antennas in place.

Chapter president Al Doddroe, Chris Walsh and Bob Flores were having a layout discussion.

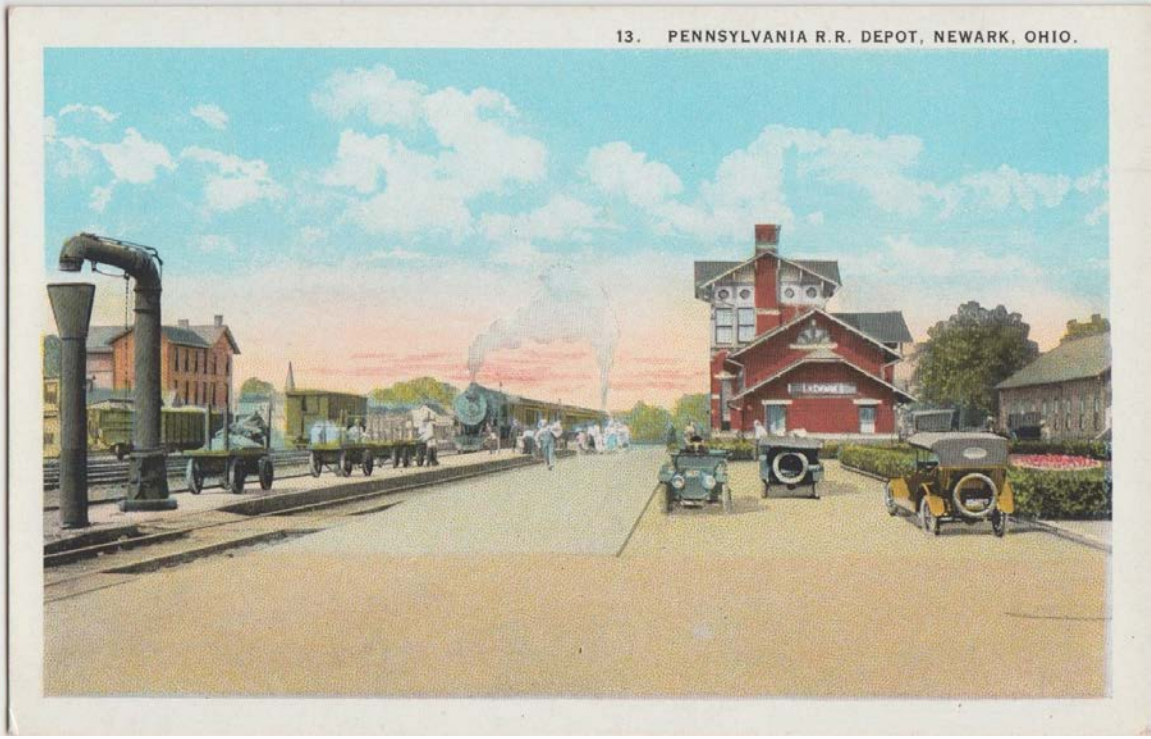

The yard area of the layout..... Name?

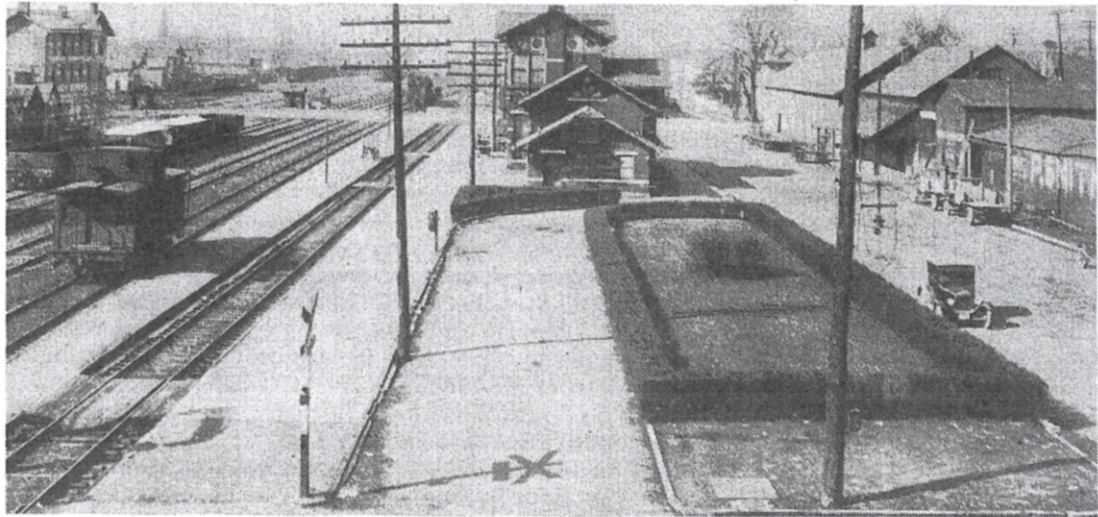

Bob Flores enjoys the wide curves and detailed mountain scenery of Chris's PRR layout.

Newark Depot in Transition – 1926 & 1931

BEFORE. This is how the old Pennsylvania Railroad Station in Newark looked before the tracks were raised and surrounding streets lowered to the position they are in today. This photo was taken in 1926, just a few years before the improvements were made.

AFTER. In 1931, soon after the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks were raised and surrounding area lowered to current grade levels, this is how the rail station appeared.
